SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

Full Stack Web Developer experienced in Python with Flask and JavaScript with React based programming. With a background as both a chef and in restaurant management. I fell in love with code after realizing the power it has as a tool to bring ideas from a conceptual stage, into reality through practical, and creative solutions for solving real world problems. I believe communication, collaboration and work ethic are important skills when it comes to achieving success and I pride myself on possessing those skills.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Python with Flask, SQL, SQLAlchemy, JavaScript, React, Vanilla CSS, Bootstrap, JSON, Node.js, VCL(Github), HTML

TECHNICAL PROJECTS

Pocket Chef – Github | Demo

Data compilation for food truck owners to keep track of their profits and expenses with chart visualizations.

- Utilized React client-side application for a seamless front-end experience
- Developed Flask Restful-API back-end to handle data persistence and respond to fetch requests
- Implemented Bootstrap as a framework for CSS to establish a uniform look throughout the application
- Integrated Chart.js to create a practical physical display of data for the user experience

Toon Rater – Github | Demo

A website for sharing and voting on cartoons to see which cartoon is the most popular.

- Developed the static HTML file establishing a platform to manipulate with JavaScript
- Created a db.JSON file that served as an API end-point for all fetch requests
- Styled the webpage using Vanilla CSS creating a pleasing aesthetic for the user
- Incorporated a JavaScript file, allowing for a more dynamic website and creating functionality for the web page
